You are warmly invited to share in Tasmania's growing mission work. Be refreshed by God's heart for his world, by attending the CMS (Church Missionary Society) SPUR Global Mission Conference in January 2024.

WHAT IS SPUR?

Building on all the best of the previous CMS SummerView conferences, we are now relaunching CMS SummerView as SPUR: CMS Global Mission Conference.

SPUR wants to see an increasing number of Tasmanian Christians spurred on to pray, care and give to those who go to the nations with God's gospel of grace.

Like SummerView previously, SPUR is an opportunity for Christians across Tasmania to experience outstanding Bible and mission teaching. We want to better understand God's work in bringing about a world that knows Jesus.

You will be inspired to greater involvement in global and local disciple-making. You will gain an international perspective on mission challenges and opportunities in the Indian Ocean, South Africa, and Cambodia.

Through mission-focused seminars and electives, you will be biblically and practically helped by gospel workers on Home Assignment, and others in the CMS fellowship. We will explore topics that equip us as individuals and churches to be involved in God's global mission.

SPEAKERS

Local

Our conference preacher will be David Williams, former missionary and Director of Development and Training at St Andrew's Hall (the CMS training centre). David will also present a seminar, The Biblical story of God's mission.

International

International speaker James Wong, Anglican Archbishop of the Province of the Indian Ocean and Bishop of the Seychelles, will speak about ministry and mission opportunities in the Seychelles and Madagascar.

Missionary sharing

Tasmania's own Maurice & Amanda Jacobson, serving in Cambodia and Kylie Zietsch, serving in South Africa, will explain the mission joys, challenges and opportunities in their location and ministries. Other CMS Tasmania gospel workers will be sharing from mission locations via video. There will be in-person mission interviews of those taking the next mission steps with CMS, and those back from short-term mission work.

Electives

On Thursday and Friday afternoons there will be optional electives presented by gospel workers on Home Assignment, and others in the CMS fellowship. They will explore topics that will equip us as individuals, and as churches, to better be involved in God's global mission priorities.

YOUNG PEOPLE AT SPUR

Children will be looked after in their own creche (6m-4yrs), primary (prep-grade 6) and high school (grades 7-10) programs, which will run during the main sessions and mission presentations (but not during the evening or elective sessions). The high schoolers will have mentors to guide their learning as they attend the missionary keynote presentations alongside the adults. Parents can bring their children to the evening and elective sessions if desired. Pencils and colour in activities will be provided. High schoolers will benefit from the electives and evening sessions, and are most welcome.

ACCOMODATION OPTIONS: CMS VILLAGE

Many conference attendees, missionaries and keynote speakers stay next door to the conference venue at the Big 4 Launceston Holiday Park. This year, CMS has reserved all cabins. Book early as they will sell out.

To book a cabin, contact CMS TAS State Director Scott Doran-Sargent via email tas@cms.org.au or by phone: 0438 590 559.

To book a powered camping site near the cabins, contact Big 4 directly: (03) 6344 2600.

There are also many other accommodation options in Launceston.
